MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS REPORT

TEXTILE INDUSTRY IN INDIA- STRUCTURE AND DEVELOPMENT

India's textile sector is one of the oldest industries in Indian economy dating back several centuries. Even today, textiles sector is one of the largest contributors to India's exports. The textile industry is also labor intensive and is one of the largest employer. The textile industry has two broad segments. First, the unorganised sector consists of handloom, handicrafts and sericulture, which are operated on a small scale and through traditional tools and methods. The second is the organised sector consisting of spinning, apparel and garments segment which apply modern machinery and techniques such as economies of scale.

India was the largest producer of cotton in 2017-18. India accounts for good percentage of the world's production of textile fibres & yarns (largest producer of jute, 2nd largest producer of silk & cotton; & 3rd largest in cellulosic fibre). Fabric production in the country rose to millions in FY -2017. The industry is the second largest employer after agriculture, providing employment to over millions of people directly and indirectly. The Indian Textile Industry contributes 14 per cent to industrial production and 4 per cent to GDP. The central government is planning to finalise and launch the new textile policy in the next three months. The policy aims to achieve US$ 300 billion worth of textile exports by 2024-25 and create an additional 35 million jobs.

The Indian Textiles Industry has an overwhelming presence in the economic life of the country. Apart from providing one of the basic necessities of life, the textiles industry also plays a vital role through its contribution to industrial output, employment generation, and the export earnings of the Country.

OPPORTUNITIES

The most significant change in the Indian textile industry has been the advent of man-made fibres (MMF). India has successfully placed its innovative range of MMF textiles in almost all the countries across the globe. The future outlook for the Indian textile industry looks promising, buoyed by both strong domestic consumption as well as export demand. With consumerism and disposable income on the rise, the retail sector has experienced a rapid growth in the past decade.

Opportunities available to the Company in the present scenario, which can be seized for the benefit of the Company and ultimately to the stakeholders, can be summarized as under:

1. The government had extended the duty drawback facility on all textile products & increased the rates in some cases to boost exports in the sector.
2. In the Union budget, there is Higher fund allocation for labour skilling and end-to-end logistics solutions, including rail and coastal shipping last-mile connectivity, will help the country's textile industry to achieve the $350-billion target in next few years as set by the union government
3. The textile industry employs about 105 million people directly and indirectly. India's overall textile exports during FY 2017-18 stood at US$ 37.74 billion.
4. Capacity built over years has led to low cost of production per unit in India's textile industry; this has lent a strong competitive advantage to the country's textile exporters relative to key global peers.
5. India's growing population has been a key driver of textile consumption growth in the country.
6. The Indian textile industry is set for strong growth, buoyed by both strong domestic consumption as well as export demand.

7. Urbanization is expected to support higher growth due to change in fashion & trends.
8. The sector is expected to reach USD 226 billion by FY-2023.

THREATS

Based on review of the textile market situation and level of rivalry present in the domestic market, following threats might be present in the market, which can hinder growth of the revenue of the Company:

1. Intense competition between established brands and private label brands
2. 100 per cent FDI (automatic route) is allowed in the Indian textile sector..
3. Low cost substitute products from other countries
4. Significant presence of small suppliers has reduced the bargaining power.
5. Major clothing brands have better bargaining power over textile manufacturers, as the product differentiation is low and number of players are high and fragmented.

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that

- (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company;
- (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and
- (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at 31-Mar-2018.
